Dear Sonja,
It's been fun sitting next to you in College English because you have helped me catch up when I have been absent. Good luck and I hope I see you again after graduation

Your friend
Lauraine Nelson "57"

Sonja
It's been real swell having you in English this year. But most of all I'm glad you're not from ES.A.A. It was a lot of fun having you in ES.A.A. I hope always, in your future + happiness

"57"

Dear Sonja,
It's been a lot of (ha) fun this year in math. I didn't learn a thing. I wish you the best of luck in future endeavors

Sincerely,
Alden

Dear Sonja,
Heres luck to you always (oops, I have that) Good luck again in your future
Sincerely

PUYALLUP HIGH SCHOOL PUYALLUP, WASHINGTON

Dear Sonja

Dear Sonja

Woo, I didn't think I would make it through this year. Remember the times we had at school but mainly the times we had out of school. I was going to mention one of the expenses, but I better not! (#@!%#!) Lots of luck in the future and in the Navy.

a Friend
Patsy Blodgett

I sure had fun in Math this and I know that it would never have had so much if you weren't in the class. Without your help I would never have made a B

You I will always remember this last and all the fun we have had.
Take it easy in the Navy and don't kill yourself before you get to Col. Love U, Dreams of the past and promises of the future—"Our Little Red School House" has given us all this.

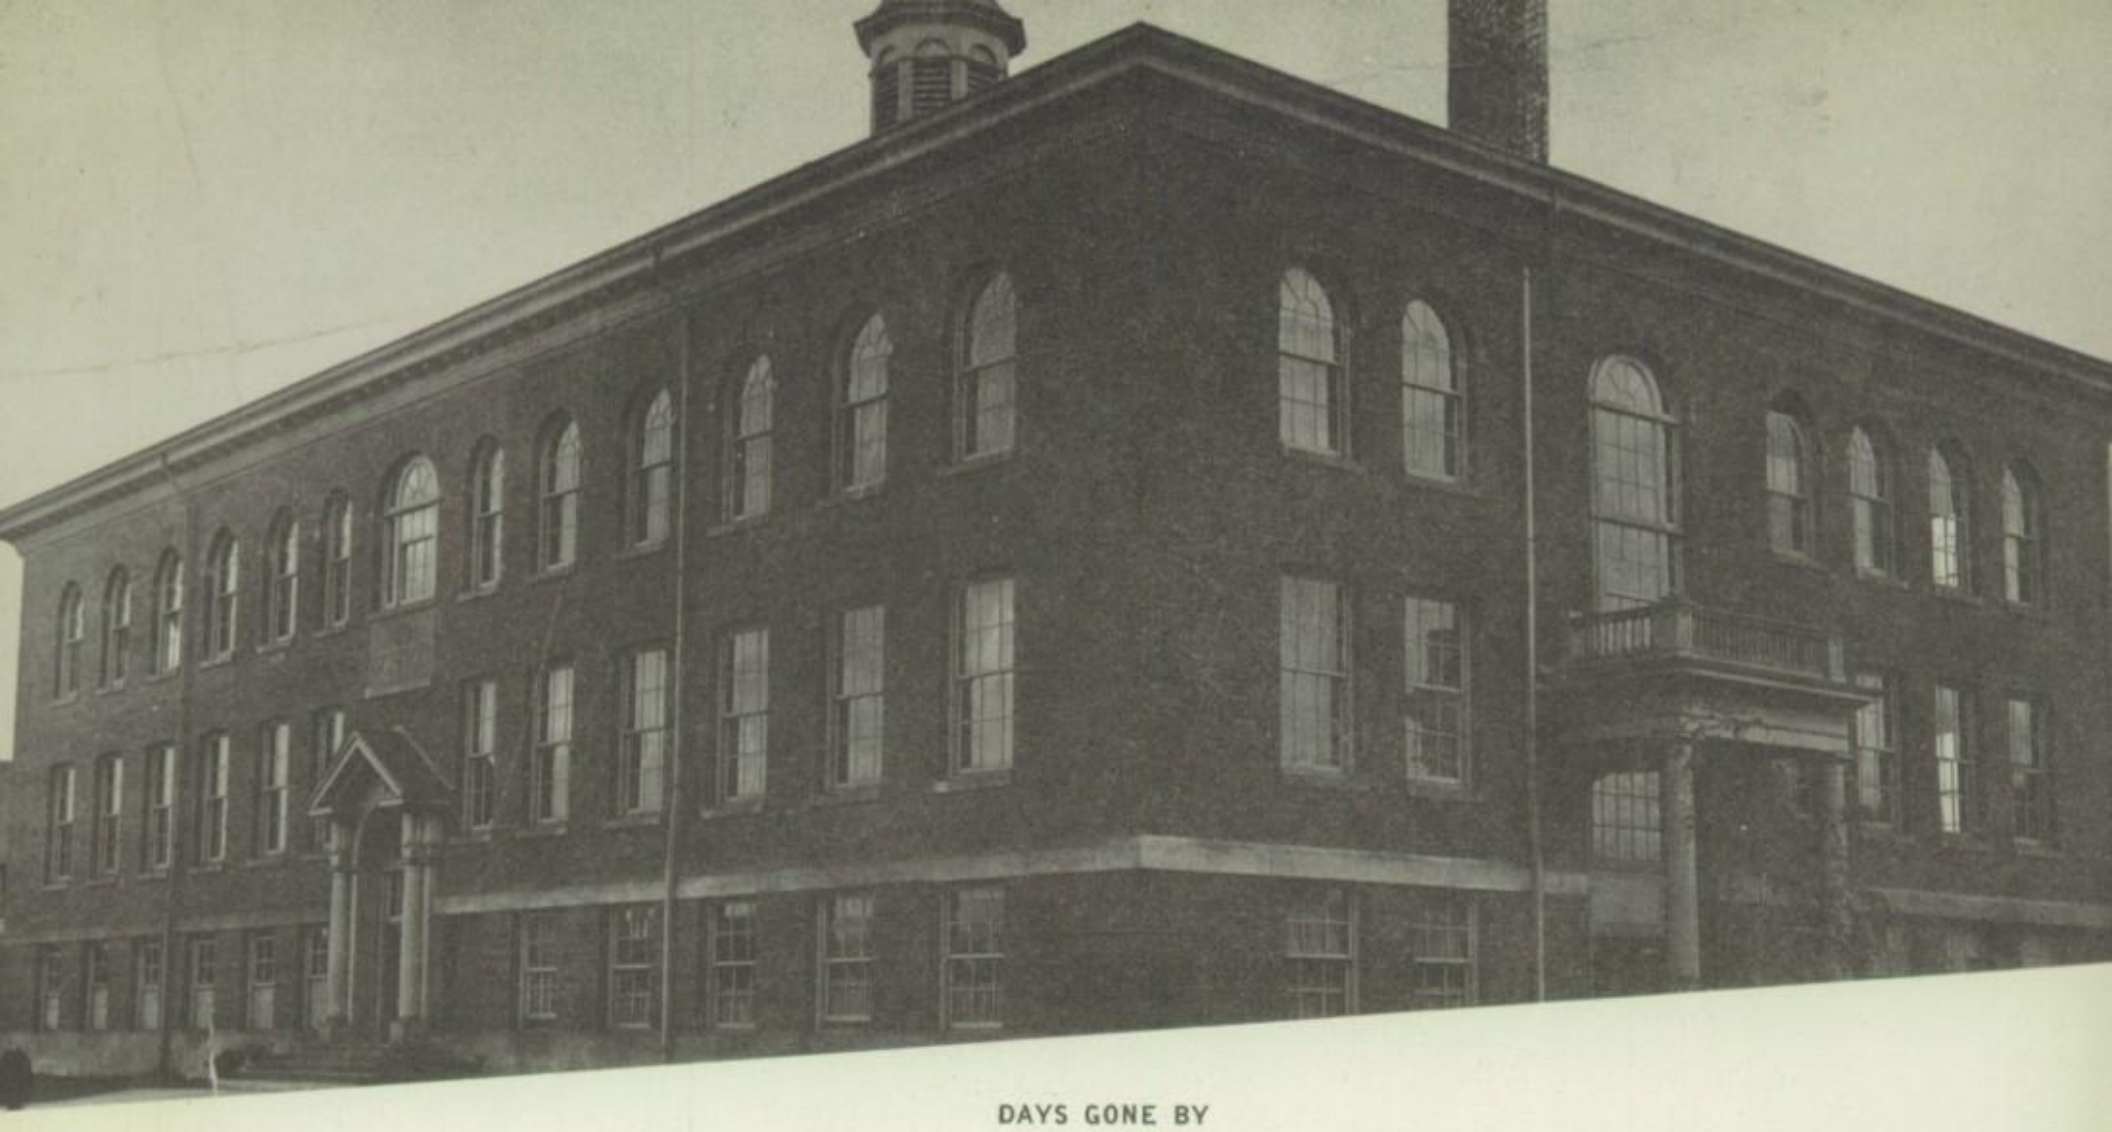
"Our School Was Once a Little Red School House" sitting by itself in the midst of the unconquered wilderness. Today our school, an out-growth of the warmth and simplicity of yester-years, is a thriving metropolis. The first small structure that once housed Puyallup High School students was built in 1890 at the present site of J. P. Stewart Grade School. From there PHS has changed locations and more than tripled in size. This year for the first time, PHS is an all senior high school with the junior high students having moved to a building of their own. But progress has not come to an end, for PHS is not content to stand still. There is more to come; new additions to PHS are being discussed; and in time a new senior high school will replace our school of today. In the years that come, our school today will be the "Little Red School House of Tommorrow." For with each day and year our minds are engraved with the treasured events of our lives which soon are nothing but memories.

In the pages that follow, the 1957 Viking staff of PHS has tried to record some of the memories of the 1956-57 school year; the work, the fun; the smiles, and yes, the tears too, for all of this is a part of our "Little Red School House of Today."



DAYS GONE BY

Puyallup High School as it was in 1909. In 1919 a new wing was added to this building, and finally in 1927 the school burned and the present school was built.

Dear Sonja,
I am so sorry that I couldn't go with you senior week a I know that it will be a ball," but that is the way it goes sometimes.
The more I know you the better I like you and this year I really got to know
you. I wish you the best of luck in the Navy and if you get a "leave" come see me as I will stay in the valley until I get married or join the service too. Till the next time I see you "Commander"
I will say Anchors Away, Best of luck to a fellow Alumni of
P. H. S.
See you someday

IN MEMORIAM

The sound of laughter echoes
Across the span of life
And is lost
Over the distant horizon
Memories filled with joy and Happiness, linger in its wake
And hearts fill with sorrow
At the shortness of its flight . . .

CLASSES

Within the walls of the "Little Red School House" one could always find representatives from many grades studying hard to master the "3 R's". Today four classes are represented at PHS, each dedicated to the promotion of its own standing yet each striving hard for the good of the entire school. By working in harmony, the students of today have found they can build character traits that will carry them through their careers of tomorrow.

Dear Sonja,
I have enjoyed having classes with you the last three years. I have enjoyed getting to know you and I wish you all the luck on your new venture into Navy. Best of luck and be good.

STUDENTS STEP INTO HONORS LIMELIGHT

With a grade point average of 3.97, Karl Hammermeister was announced as the 1957 valedictorian. Karl has been active in Latineers, band, Ski Club, and Hi-Y. His future plans include studying science at Stanford University. Karl was a "Certificate of Merit" winner from the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, winner of the math contest, and winner of the Bausch and Lamb Honorary Science Award.

Tying for second place in class standings was Fay Ramsey with a grade point average of 3.94. Fay was active in Honor Society, Pep Club, Tri-Hi-Y, band, and Girls' Athletic Association. Her plans include attending either Washington State College or the University of Washington.

Sharing second place was Dave McCallum, co-salutatorian. Latineers, Hi-Y, football, baseball, and Smoking Committe were included in Dave's outside activities. After graduating, he will attend the University of Washington and study engineering. Dave was also the winner of the Bausch and Lamb Honorary Science Award and placed third in the math contest.

HONOR SOCIETY ENCOURAGES OUTSIDE ACTIVITIES

Puyallup High School's Honor Society was made up of honor roll students who participated in at least two extra-curricular activities at school. The club's purpose was to encourage high scholarship, leadership, good character, and service. In organization William Denevan advised the officers —Jon Linder, president; Sharlyne McPherson, vice-president; Joan Refsland, secretary; and Valerie Bond, treasurer. The Honor Society members represented the club in dramatics, sports, art, science, mathematics, journalism, and in almost every other organization and classroom subject.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Trading senior cards and signing each other's memory books are the senior class officers Terry Sherman, president; Evelyn Strandley, secretary; Nancy Helander, yell leader; and Dick Ferguson, vice-president.

SENIORS LEAVE ''LITTLE RED SCHOOL HOUSE''

The first to graduate under the new administration and the largest ever to emerge from Puyallup High School—this may be said of the class of 1957.

1957 has been their final year in the "Little Red School House of Today." Perhaps in the future when a new high school is built, the present one will seem antiquated and out-dated; but to the class of '57, it has been the scene of each important discovery of their high school careers. Here they learned how to get along in a modern-day society, not just how to read and write as students in former high schools did.

The seniors have demonstrated four years of progress, beginning from their frightening first days as freshmen. In their freshman year Jerry Hodgins was president; Carol Berry, vice-president; Pat Kooser, secretary; and Sharlyne McPherson, yell leader. Although they only placed fourth with their stunt, "Ladies Prefer Puyallup," and were only fourth in the season ticket drive, they were gaining experience in working together.

During their sophomore year, led by Terry Sherman, president; Becky Jones, vice-president; Linda Rickert, secretary; and Jean Thurston, yell leader; they were still fourth in the stunt, based on the story of Samson and Delilah. But they banned together to place second in the ticket drive.

As juniors they again placed second in the season ticket drive and won third place in the stund assembly with "Viking Spirit." Leonard Oberg was junior class president. Gene Robertson assisted him as vice-president; Linda Rickert served a second term as secretary. To keep class spirit high, Kathy Palmer led the class's yells.

Led again by Terry Sherman with the help of Dick Ferguson, vice-president; Evelyn Strandley, secretary; and Nancy Helander, yell leader; the seniors won second place with the stunt "Uncle Remus" and placed first in the season ticket drive.

The class of 1957 can well be proud of their other accomplishments; they sponsored two excellent class plays—"Tom Sawyer" and the Broadway hit, "Time Out for Ginger."

Always interested in working on their class dances, the present-day seniors held "Bumble-Bee Be-Bop" when they were freshmen and "Heavenly Holiday" when they were sophomores. Last year, using a nautical theme, they presented "Dream Harbor." This year the seniors used shades of lavender and cerise to set the mood for "Cerise Capri," the senior ball, which was held at the Fruitland Grange.

To bring the high school year to its traditional close, the class ribbons of blue and gold were lowered in the move up assembly, never to be raised again. Held after Baccalaureate and Commencement, the senior party will long be remembered as the "last fling" of the class whose motto was, "Our spirit's high as heaven, 1-9-5-7."

For the seniors the doors of the "Little Red School House" are closing. They will only open to them when they return as visitors to the "Little Red School House of Tomorrow."

JUNIOR STUNT

Dancers from the stunt based on "The King and I" helped win first place for the junior class in the annual stunt assembly.

"Praise to Spirit."

This phrase from the junior stunt "Uncle Tom's Cabin," aptly describes the drive which carried the class of '58 to first place in the stunt assembly and second in the season ticket drive.

Blithe colors and harlequin masks conveyed the spirit of the "Mardi Gras" as the class of '58 became the first junior class to hold their prom at the Fruitland Grange.

Class advisers were Paul Simons, Art Larson, Miss Nancy McCartney, Miss Gladys Sorenson, and Miss Pat Krause.

SOPHOMORES CHOOSE WINTER "HOP" THEME

"We're the class that's first in line 1-9-5-9," was the enthusiastic class yell of the sophomores. Although the 'sophs' fell down in the season ticket drive and the stunt assembly, taking third and fourth places respectively, they regained their balance and on Jan. 4 presented a successful hop, "Sleigh Bell Serenade."

Advising the class of '59 was Miss Florence Pefferle, Miss Frieda Scheitlin, Sterling Harshman, and John Durr.

Winning third place in their stunt, "Wide, Wide World;" following closely the behind the third place sophomores to take fourth place in the season ticket drive, and presenting their frolic—all these activities helped the freshman class to fulfill their yell, "We're the class that's on the go, 1-9-6-0."

Advisers for the freshmen this year were Carl Wasmund, Miss Patti Clark, Mrs. Alice Hickey, Mrs. Lorraine Friberg, and Bob McGrew.

FACULTY

From the problem of heating a little one-room school house with a pot-belly stove to the problem of guiding the present generation of the atomic era, teachers and administrators have advanced their modes of teaching to help their students find a place in the world. The hickory stick of yester-years has been replaced by the patience and understanding of today's well-trained teachers and advisers.

ADMINISTRATION
Paul Hanawalt, Mrs. Doris Murphy, Fred Simons, Marion Catron.

GYM ISSUE TROUBLES ADMINISTRATION IN '56 - '57

As superintendent, Paul B. Hanawalt with his helpers was responsible for the management of the entire school district. He worked closely with the school board in carrying out their problems. According to one of the superintendent's own definitions of his duties, he was also a liaison man between the teachers and the school board.

Fred Simons, curriculum director, had as his many duties interviewing new teachers, and ordering new books, desks, and supplies. He also worked with the architect for the proposed gymnasium.

Taking care of the business of the Puyallup school district kept the secretaries in the superintendent's office busy. Mrs. Audrey Dye, head secretary, was the payroll clerk; Mrs. Vivian Cox handled all the bills, and Mrs. Barbara Berg and Mrs. Vera Whitford were the general secretaries.

Balanced diets and a balanced budget were the chief duties of Mrs. Doris Murphy, lunchroom director. She also had charge of the cafeterias in the school district.

Marion Catron's duties as business manager were to take care of any financial problems the schools might have. He also worked with maintenance, buying fuel, and he was also in charge of the busses.

On hand to give final authority on all school problems were the members of the Puyallup School Board. These five citizens, who determine the policies for the entire school district, had as one of their major problems the decision of what to do with a bond issue for $180,000 which was passed by the voters in the November election, although the millage did not receive the percentage required.

THEY KEEP WHEELS OF SCHOOL RUNNING

As the new school year of '56 - '57 began, many new faces were seen in the halls of PHS. Not only were there new teachers, but also a new principal and vice-principal, to guide the students of a senior high school.

"My first year as principal of Puyallup High School has been a very enjoyable one. Several changes in procedure were possible, because for the first time in many years we had adequate classroom space. Many compensations came with the transfer of the seventh and eighth grades to the new junior high. It has been a privilege to be associated with our fine faculty and studentbody. With their hearty cooperation I feel we have had a very successful school year," stated Don Hartung, principal.

As vice-principal of Puyallup High School Jim Turman was in charge of activities, assemblies, busses, usher director, lockers, and attendance. He was also adviser of the newly organized rifle club and assistant basketball coach.

The high school secretaries kept track of students all through high school—from sending for a new student's record to recording grades. Besides the routine duties such as filing and typing, they made out tardy slips and collected locker fines.

One period a day helping the high school secretaries—that was the office girls. Their job included printing and distributing the bulletin, collecting attendance slips, answering telephones, and doing odd jobs around the office.

Miss Helen Alexander and Miss Carolyn Fix demonstrate homemaking ability to their classes. Miss Alexander was co-adviser of the Future Homemakers of America, while Miss Fix was co-adviser of the FHA and adviser of the costume committee and Viking Ladies.

"How many majors must I have to graduate?" "Where should I go to college?" "How can I win a scholarship?" "What kind of job should I prepare for?" Questions like these had to be answered almost every day by Kurt Bargmeyer, guidance director, and Miss Frieda Scheitlin, assistant director.

Mr. Bargmeyer also advised the Board of Control, while Miss Scheitlin, who taught Latin, was adviser for Latineers and the sophomores. Mrs. Donna Sinner, office secretary, also helped students.

"The verb to be never takes an object!" These words were spoken often to students in their English classes. Miss Hilda Skreen advised the senior class and Washington Retailers Club while Miss Nancy McCartney served as debate coach and adviser for the juniors. Mrs. Lorraine Friberg, who replaced Miss Ellen Henderson early in the year, was freshman class adviser. Spanish was also taught by William Denevan, who was Los Amigos and Honor Society adviser. Harold Snodgrass was adviser of the VIKING, Viking Vanguard, and Quill and Scroll. Preparing seniors for the years ahead in college was Miss Gertrude Hansen, who was also make-up committee adviser. Morris Hendrickson, senior class adviser, was in charge of all plays, while Mrs. Alice Hickey, advised the drill team, freshman class, and girls' athletics; and Miss Elizabeth Buss was publicity committee adviser.

TO HIGHER HORIZONS

Carl Sparks, athletic director and head football coach, and Robert McGrew, freshman class adviser, taught their students the basic mechanical drawing and woodworking principles that would apply to all projects.

As director of instrumental music in Puyallup, Robert Miller conducted band, orchestra, and small ensembles in the junior and senior high schools, while Louis Owens, director of vocal music, taught chorus and A Cappella Choir, in addition to directing Viking Varieties.

A total of $275 was raised by the civics and world history classes for Hungarian Relief during the fall. The students raised money by sponsoring a talk given by a Czechoslovakian refugee.

In addition to teaching world history, Miss Palma Larsen served as Girls' Club adviser and president of the Puyallup Education Association board. Mrs. Nydia Case, senior class adviser, also served on the PEA board besides teaching English. Junior class adviser and assistance with essay contests were the duties of Paul Simons. Al Jacobs, world history teacher, coached "B" squad football and ninth grade track. Frank "Buster" Brouillet, spent the months of January, February, and March at the State Legislature in Olympia, where he was Representative from the 25th Legislative district. Art Larson taught basic mathematics in addition to civics. He served as junior class adviser and coached "B" squad football and track.

"If two sides of a triangle are equal, the angles opposite those side are equal." Miss Mariam Cleveland's geometry classes proved such geometrical principles with the use of theorems. Donald Wilson, new to PHS this year, advised the property committee and Viking Knights in addition to teaching algebra. Baseball, varsity basketball, and ninth grade football were the coaching jobs of Dean Nicholson, algebra instructor; while Glen Crum, senior class adviser, handled the public address system, audio-visual department, and adult education besides conducting a class in college mathematics.

ON CLASSROOM ACTIVITIES

"Must I dissect this crayfish?" "How do I do oxidation-reduction problems?" "How many types of reactions are there?" These questions were often asked the teachers of the science department.

Sterling Harshman was sophomore class adviser and coach of the first team football and track squads. Ray Prevost, new to PHS this year, advised the sophomore class and newly organized rifle club. John Durr advised the sophomore class, while Don Henry advised the Future Teachers of America, tennis team, and smoking committee.

Working with soils, dairy, feeds, poultry, beef, and swine were Mike Mowrer and Duane Kaiser, agriculture teachers. They were also co-advisers of the Future Farmers of America.

"My debits just won't equal the credits!" "This typewriter's keys must be stuck!" "How can I get this problem to come out?" These are just a few of the questions heard by the business education teachers.

Miss Gwendolyn Frater was studentbody treasurer, while Miss Margaret Hughes was in charge of season tickets. Hoyt J. Harrell advised the ticket committee and Future Teachers of America. New to PHS this year was Miss Patricia Krause who was adviser for the junior class, pep club, and property committee.

The old and valued possessions of PHS were kept in safe keeping in the Karshner Memorial Museum by Mrs. Elizabeth Grunder. Mrs. Grunder answered the questions of all interested students and showed the grade school students articles which would be of interest to them.

"Do you have any books on the heart? I need some so I can work on my research paper." Miss Florence Pfefferle was always ready and willing to help students when questions like these were asked. In addition to her library duties Miss Pfefferle was an adviser of the sophomore class.

Two girls each period gave up a study hall in order to assist Miss Pfefferle in the library. They took attendance, answered the phone, and checked out books, shelved them, and repaired them.

Better teaching methods and cooperation among educators is the business of the Puyallup Education Association. Miss Palma Larsen, president, heads this organization made up of all the teachers and administrators in the Puyallup schools. Charles Zaffaroni, vice-president; Richard Erskine, secretary; John Lavinder, treasurer; and past presidents Alfred Jewel and Mrs. Nydia Case complete the Board of Directors.

Honk! Honk! Crash! Were familiar sounds to Karl Decker's ears when his drivers training students had minor accidents. Minor? Yes, Mr. Decker was the drivers training teacher who taught the inexperienced PHS students the techniques of driving. As senior class adviser Mr. Decker was in charge of ordering cards and announcements.

You may think that a life of an art teacher might be dull but not in the case of Gladys Sorenson, for her life was filled with many activities which took up most of her spare time. She was Art Club adviser along with being a junior class adviser. She helped with all the Art Club projects and also helped with the Christmas decorations in the halls.

BUILDINGS OF PHS

Rain, snow, sun, or sleet—one could always find the bus drivers warming up the busses every morning for the early morning runs. Many students counted on the punctuality of the bus drivers for their morning and afternoon rides to and from school.

The cooks work made it possible for hundreds of PHS students to buy hot lunches. Their work began early in the morning and wasn't complete until late in the afternoon when everything was washed and put away.

Helping the girls with their problems is the chief duty of Mrs. Louise Redford, matron. She maintains the girl's rest room and cares for the girls who become ill during the day. Also, she is the adviser of the Viking Christian Youth.

Are the halls clean? Of course they are because the custodians kept them that way. They cleaned up the candy wrappers, gum wrappers, paper, other miscellaneous items found on the floors of PHS.

ACTIVITIES

Unlike the days of the "Little Red School House" when the only organizations were the two sides for a spelling bee and a neophyte band which could hardly be called an organization, this year at PHS there existed many clubs with varied interests for nearly every student. In the days gone by, the emphasis was only on the three R's; the modern theory is that participation in extra-curricular activities develops good character traits.

STUDENT BOARD LEADS SCHOOL IN DEMOCRACY

Leading the student body during the 1956-57 season was Eddie Park, student body president. Besides his school activities as prexy, which includes presiding at assemblies and board of control meetings, Eddie attended meetings of many local groups. Chan Odell, vice president, was also student representative at many civic organizations.

The duties of secretary, Roberta Higgins, included taking minutes at board of control meetings and answering correspondences from other schools.

Under the leadership of Viola Bliner, yell queen, the pep staff led the students to win the sportsmanship trophy.

Being a democratic body, board of control is composed of elected representatives from each homeroom. Their duties included reporting the business of the meetings to the homerooms, taking the problems of their homerooms to the meetings, and stamping season tickets.

One of the major problems facing the board of control this year was that of students fighting in the hall after the stunt assembly. Several meetings were devoted to discussion of this subject, and some stricter rules were set up.

Also discussed was the idea of establishing an honor system for absence excuses, having all-school parties instead of individual room parties, and setting up a school rifle club.

A new addition to the girls club activties this year was the election of home room hostesses. The hostesses' job was to show new students around the school, tell them of the rules and traditions at PHS, and introduce them to students and teachers at PHS.

Presiding over the cabinet this year was Nancy Spencer, president. Serving under her leadership were Evelyn Strandly, vice-president; Linda Rickert, secretary; and Janet Hammermaster, historian. Advising the girls was Miss Plama Larsen.

GIRLS' CLUB DECORATES HALLS, SPONSORS MIXER

Planning the entertainment and refreshments, and making and putting up the decorations was some of the work done by the girls chosen to plan this year's Girls' Club Mixer. The mixer's theme was "Friendship Around the World," and it fulfilled the the purpose of acquainting the new girls with the old ones.

Another project that took weeks of hard work was the making of decorations for the halls during the Christmas season. Volunteers helped make the sparkling colored Christmas balls.

VANGUARD JOURNALISTS PUBLISH BI-MONTHLY

Co-editors Rita Wheeler and Roberta Higgins copyreading stories for the next issue of the Vanguard.

Upon entering room 310 this year, one may have thought a cyclone had been the most recent visitor. Actually the only thing that had blown through this room was the Viking Vanguard staff trying to put out the next edition of the bi-weekly tabloid.

This year a change was made by the Vanguard staff. The site of the publications room was moved from room 310-A to room 310 to give the staff more space in which to work. One would think that with this additional space the publications room would be neater than it was in previous years. The staff saw to it, however, that the room retained the casual wind-blown look.

Under the guidance of adviser Harold Snodgrass and leadership of co-editors Rita Wheeler and Roberta Higgins, the staff managed to get the paper to press in time for each scheduled publication. Helping Rita and Roberta were special editors as well as many reporters. This special staff was changed at the end of the first semester.

CUB REPORTERS BEGIN JOURNALISTIC WORK

Editors and reporters alike worked diligently everyday, although the Viking Vanguard came out only once every two weeks. On weeks that the paper didn't come out, the advertising staff worked to sell ads while the feature writers worked to get copy written, edited, and down to the shop to be set.

The week the paper came out was usually devoted to news and headline writing and make-up. This wasn't as easy as it may sound. Many times reporters were unable to get stories in until the last moment. When this happened, make-up work was delayed. This situation caused the editors to work late the Thursday nights before the paper was to come out so that students of PHS might receive their papers on schedule.

Many problems had to be faced in order to put out a good school paper. Sometimes a story would break the morning or night before the paper was to come out. When this would happen, someone would be called on to do a fast story of a certain length that could be squeezed into a place being occupied by a less important story.

This incident along with many others was taken right in stride by the Vanguard staff and amidst the confusion of glue, copy and deadlines the paper did come out on schedule every two weeks.

ANNUAL PAGES CLOSE AS VIKING STAFF ENDS WORK

Front: Marilyn Humphreys and Jean Thurston, associate editors, Back Row: Sharlyne McPherson, editor.

The flickering of candles through the night could be seen as members of the annual staff tried desperately to meet deadlines. As each date rolled around, editors cracked their whips a little harder in an attempt to meet these deadlines.

Headed by Sharlyne McPherson with the assistance of associate editors Jean Thurston and Marilyn Humphreys, the staff began making plans for the 1957 Viking last spring. Trips to the bindery and the engraving and printing shops helped give the editors a more complete picture of how a book is put together.

General plans for the Viking were completed last fall while the individual sections were completed this spring. Making up dummy pages, pasting pictures, and writing and typing copy and headlines were all part of the jobs that had to be mastered by the staff.

QUILL AND SCROLL RAISES MONEY FROM DANCE

The click of the camera and the flash of the bulbs could be heard and seen almost everywhere as photographers did their best to get pictures taken. Working for both the paper and the annual kept the boys on their toes. In addition to taking the pictures the boys had to print them also. This job, however, was made somewhat easier with the conversion of room 310-A into a roomy darkroom this year.

Sponsoring a dance and holding cake and candy sales were some of the money raising projects carried on by Quill and Scroll this year. To become a member of the International Honorary Society for High School Journalists, a student had to maintain a "B" average and publish 100 inches of copy or 200 inches of advertising in the Viking Vanguard. Members of the Viking staff could also qualify for membership by meeting similar requirements.

The club this year was led by Lorraine Ross, president; Beverly Gallant, vice-president; Rita Wheeler, secretary; and Marilyn Humphreys, treasurer.

Y GROUPS OFFER GAY FAVORS TO HOSPITALS

The Hi-Y Council, the coordinating body for all the Hi-Y's, discussed individual club problems and planned various projects.

Presenting four varied dances with an orchestra and decorations was one of the projects of the Rec Board. Officers included Chuck Larson, president; Jeanette Rees, vice-president; and Evelyn Strandley, secretary-treasurer.

Preparing for membership in one of the four Tri-Hi-Y's was the main purpose of the Tri-Hi-Y training group which was under the direction of Robert Leonard, YMCA director.

The group of 120 sold daffodil buttons and had a car wash to earn money for World Service.

Visiting hospitals, making scrapbooks, and working at odd jobs around the 'Y' were other projects carried on by the girls during the semester.

Viking Tri-Hi-Y made dolls for children's hospitals.

Selling March of Dimes balloons and making dolls for children's hospitals were two of Viking Tri-Hi-Y's projects this year. They also served at the Orthopedic Guild smorgaasbord and helped out at the Easter services. Helping with various service jobs at the Y took the rest of the group's time. Nancy Helander presided as president of the group, helping her were Dena Biehn, vice-president; Germaine Baumgartner, secretary; Marjorie Bowser, treasurer; Sarolye-Gay McPherson, chaplain; and Sharlyne McPherson, sergeant at arms.

Puyallup Tri-Hi-Y worked on a Thanksgiving basket, made toys for the children at the Indian Hospital, and ushered at the Easter Services. For money raising projects they had a car wash, cake sale, and sold Christmas corsages. The entire group went to church together and had a joint meeting with Torch Hi-Y. They washed the stools in the cafeteria and helped in various Y projects. Carol Greeley led the group as president, helping her were Linda Rickert, vice-president; Mary Lou Reyes, secretary; Jo Ann Corey, treasurer; and Georgiana Batchelor, chaplain.

Having a Valentine's party for their little brothers and sisters, selling coke at the basketball games, and dusting off the seats in the auditorium were a few of the activities of Torch Tri-Hi-Y this year. Torch members also made a Christmas basket during the holiday season which they gave to a needy family in the Puyallup area. Other projects were making scrapbooks for retarded children at Buckley Hospital, and making toy rabbits for children in hospitals at Easter. Carole McBride led the Torch members as president, Jeanette Rees, vice-president; Vici Helmholz, secretary; and Dorothy Dall, treasurer.

Amica Tri-Hi-Y sold light bulbs as their money-making project. The money raised was given to World Service. During the Christmas season Amica members made a Christmas basket which they gave to a needy family in the Puyallup area. Making favors at Valentine's Day and Easter for the hospitals in the vicinity was another activity of the club. This group also had a joint meeting with Viking Hi-Y. Gretchen Scheyer led the group as president; Becky Jones, vice-president; Barbara Abbott, secretary; Barbara Andrews, treasurer; and Patty Newcomer, chaplain.

Lining the football field before games was Viking Hi-Y's major project this year. They also gave a Thanksgiving basket to a needy family in the Puyallup area. Meeting with other Hi-Y's and Tri-Hi-Y's, having a Hallowe'en party for themselves, and selling almond roca to raise money for World Service were other activities of the club during the year. President Chuck Larson led the group while Barton Olson acted as vice-president, Karl Hammermiester, secretary; Leonard Oberg, treasurer; David Campbell, chaplain; and David Durkee, sergeant at arms.

Having a joint meeting with Viking Hi-Y at which two men, one from the U. S. Army and one from the U. S. Navy, spoke, was one of the highlights of the year for Torch Hi-Y. Cleaning Viking field after every football game and sweeping the gym floor after basketball games were their main service projects. Other activities were joint meetings with other Hi-Y's and Tri-Hi-Y's and selling almond roca to raise money for World Service. Torch Hi-Y was led by Warren Hartshorn, president; while Bruce Rowell acted as vice-president, Dave McCallum, secretary; Mike Gross, treasurer; and Roger Dixon, chaplain.

VCY SPONSORED SALES; LATINEERS EDIT PAPER

A new name was given to the Bible Club this year. Henceforth it is to be known as the 'Voice of Christian Youth'. 'Voice of Christian Youth' clubs are located in many areas, the club in Tacoma being closely affiliated with the Puyallup club.

Many sales were held throughout the year by VCY. The profits from these sales were used to make up baskets for needy families during the Christmas season.

A quiz team was organized by the Puyallup chapter of VCY to participate in VCY rallies in Tacoma.

Officers of the club for the year were John Cook, president; Lois Brobeck, vice-president; Susan Harris, secretary; and Claudette Baker, reporter. Mrs. Louise Redford acted as adviser.

Initiating new members, attending the Junior Classical League Convention in Seattle, singing their traditional Latin carols during the Christmas season, and editing and publishing the March edition of Vox Latina were some of the activties that kept Latineers busy this year.

The last function of the year was the Roman Banquet, which is an annual affair. Latin students dressed in typical Roman style—togas, tunics, and sandles. To carry out the affair a typical Roman banquet meal of spaghetti, bread sticks, eggs, nuts, and fruit was served.

Leading the Latineers this year were Chan Odell, president; Dave McCallum, vice-president; and Barton Olson, secretary-treasurer. Miss Frieda Schietlin acted as adviser again this year.

LOS AMIGOS HEAR MEXICAN BOY SPEAK OF HOME

Breaking a pinata, hearing a Mexican boy speak, and viewing slides were only some of the interesting activities done by members of Los Amigos, the Spanish club.

Led by William Denevan, Spanish teacher, the club held an actual Spanish dinner, complete with tacos and beans. Although most of the members weren't too fond of the new type of food, they got an idea of what the Spanish and Mexican people eat.

At the Christmas party the Spaniards went into a wild frenzy as blindfolded Bruce Lodge tore around Room 312 waving a long pole trying to find and break the pinata. He succeeded only in scaring everyone within hitting distance of the pole. After several trials the pinata was broken, and everyone scrambled to the floor to get more than his share of the candy.

Leon Joannes, a Mexican boy attending high school in Eatonville, spoke to the club members twice, giving them a better idea of life in Spanish speaking countries. Helping to increase this knowledge, Frank Berrett showed slides of Uruguay and explained the pattern of living in that country.

A trumpet player from Mexico, Senor Nayo Alverado, also spoke to the group as a part of the Pan-American Day celebration and told about life in his country. Officers of Los Amigos were Rita Wheeler, president; Dick Ferguson, vice-president; Linda Rickert, secretary; and Linda Salisbury, treasurer.

VL'S, VK'S USHER; DE CLUB ATTENDS CONVENTION

Standing out from the other students every Friday were the boys and girls in blue sweaters with white letters. These students were the Viking Ladies and Viking Knights.

To become a member of these honor, service organizations was a privilege, for membership was limited to 14 V.L.'s and 12 V.K.'s. The students were asked to join these groups on the following: character, personality, scholarship, and citizenship.

Viking Ladies and Viking Knights were kept busy through the year ushering at football and basketball games and at plays and other performances held at PHS. The raising and lowering of the flag each day was attended to by the V.K.'s; the V.L.'s were kept busy cleaning the trophy case.

Winning an activity award at the Washington State Retailers' Convention last March was the high point of the year for the Puyallup Retailers' Club. Third place honors for manuals were also won at the convention by Puyallup members Kathy McDonald and Myrna Bartness. The display team took a second place rating.

The club is connected with both the state and national clubs and is operated in relationship to the distributive education classes. Such techniques as those used in selling, displaying, and merchandising are taught to these students by Miss Hilda Skreen, club adviser and D.E. class teacher.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS PRESENT ANNUAL BANQUET

The Future Homemakers of America opened the year with a special dessert luncheon for their mothers. This "get-acquainted" party featured a formal initiation ceremony for the new members. The following day the initates wore old clothes and pigtails to school, and they were seen ducking into corners whenever an old member came in to sight.

A regional meeting in Sumner drew several delegates from Puyallup. This offered an opportunity for the girls to learn more about the organization and to exchange ideas with FHA'ers from other schools.

Selling hot dogs and coffee at football games, the girls braved the cold to raise money for their club.

The Dad-Daughter Banquet on Feb. 13 featured Valentine decorations in the FHA colors, red and white. The girls served their fathers fried chicken, accompanied by baked potatoes, tossed salad, and apple pie a la mode.

An exchange party with Eatonville was held in February. Miss Fix showed slides of her trip through Europe last summer, and the girls got another chance to meet FHA'ers from another school.

The officers of the club this year were Ramona Shephard, president; Joanne Campbell, vice-president; Joanne Long, secretary; and Caroline Deck, treasurer. Miss Alexander and Miss Fix, Puyallup home economics teachers, advised the group.

"TIME OUT FOR GINGER" IS ROLLICKING COMEDY

Karren Hanson as she portrayed the tomboyish Ginger Carol, in "Time Out for Ginger."

Attempting to prove that girls are equal to boys, even on the football field, was Ginger Carol, the leading character in the senior class sponsored play "Time Out for Ginger." "Time Out for Ginger," which was presented Nov. 15 and 16, was the story of a 14 year old girl who was determined to play football. Through her determination she almost succeeded in getting her father to lose his job as well as many of his friends.

Portraying the enthusiastic girl football player, Ginger, was Karren Hanson. Ginger's family consisted of Joan, the oldest of the three Carol girls, played by Carol Wilson; Jeanie, Ginger's other older sister, portrayed by Rita Wheeler; and Roger Dixon and Diane Petersen, who played the parts of Ginger's bewildered parents.

Ginger's boy friend, Tommy, was played by Martin Bradfield. Other members of the cast were Elsie Luckow, as Liz the Carol's maid; Bill Zimmerman as Joan's boy friend, Jon Linder portraying Mr. Wilson, the high school principal; and Don Thompson, the bank president, Mr. Carol's boss.

"Gramercy Ghost," the humorous story of the ghost of a Revolutionary War soldier who couldn't go "up above" until he delivered an overdue message for General George Washington was enacted at Puyallup High School March 22 as the junior-sponsored play.

The lead role of Nancy Willard, the girl who inherited the ghost, was played by Diane Petersen. The ghost, Nathaniel Coombes, of purely spiritual substance but with very worldly longings, was portrayed by Jon Linder. Richard Green was originally cast in this part, but because of illness was unable to be in the play.

Bob Finch was Charlie Stewart, a reporter who took a fancy to Nancy. Parker, who was Nancy's stuffed-shirt boyfriend, was played by Don Thompson.

FUTURE FARMERS REPAIR HAY PRESS FOR FAIR

One of the many highlights for the Puyallup branch of the Future Farmers of America this year was receiving a very high rating in the Washington Junior Poultry Show. Another bright highlight for the members of the Puyallup chapter was making the final payment on their new agricultural truck which they purchased last May.

Erecting an educational booth at the Western Washington State Fair proved interesting to many members who took part in the construction. An old hay press, older than the state of Washington, was the main attraction in the booth.

A parliamentary procedure team was formed within the club; this team participated in the annual parliamentary contest. Members of the team were George Terrile, president; Walter Hunt, vice-president; Alan Bargmeyer, secretary; Ed Schuler, treasurer; Doug Smith, sentinel; and Jim Schmit, reporter.

Another team organized by the club this year was the Dairy and Livestock Judging Team that judged at several fairs during the year.

A Parent-Son Banquet was held for the members and their parents early in the spring at Puyallup High School in the cafeteria.

Officers for the club were George Terrile, president; Ken Free, vice-president; Bob Badham, secretary; Bill Bell, treasurer; Mike Baginski, reporter; and Jerry Van Sickle, sentinel.

Selling tickets when paid admissions were required for admission into activities were the members of the ticket selling committee. Always present and busy at football games, basketball games, track meets, concerts, and plays were members Florence Duncan, Kay Jones, Fay Ramsey and Jo Ann Corey. Being a service organization, the girls received no credit. Jim Harrell acted as committee adviser.

Made up of girls chosen from the bookkeeping classes, the season ticket committee kept a record of payments made and not made on season tickets. Accounts were kept and money was counted and deposited by these girls. Each month they issued season ticket material to home room representatives. Miss Margaret Hughes was adviser.

Under the supervision of Morris Hendrickson, the stage crew took care of all of the backstage maneuvers that added much to the enjoyment of the programs presented this year.

The stage crew worked during regular stage class and also, when necessary, after school and evenings.

Along with designing and building the sets for all school functions, the stage crew also handled the lighting, curtains, sound effects, and spotlights for the community presentations that were held in the PHS auditorium.

Student participation in the making of principles which affect the school is evident in the functioning of the Smoking Committee. The students who are members of the Smoking Committee along with Don Henry, adviser, make the rules and punish those who disobey the ordinances. When a student is found guilty he is commanded to sign a pledge stating that he will not smoke within the restricted zone again.

FUTURE TEACHERS, FUTURE NURSES AID COMMUNITY

The Future Teachers of America started an active year by installing Linda Rickert as president; Kay Jones, vice-president; Dena Biehn, secretary; and Jon Linder, treasurer.

The Future Teachers Club substituted at the junior high school and the elementary schools at various times during the year. They had a cake sale and with the money earned bought toys for handicapped children.

FTA members made a tour of McNeil Island and also carried out American Education Week by broadcasting a program on radio.

"Please stay in line and roll up your sleeves," were the familiar words so many students heard from members of the Future Nurses Club, as club members helped the nurses and doctors give polio shots this year. Besides helping with the polio shots, the girls helped with the freshman physicals and stamped cancer information.

The group led by Miss Adah Sands visited Buckley and Steilacoom as part of their yearly study of mental health.

SOPH, JR. DEBATORS BUILD TEAM FOR COMING YEAR

This was a building year for the debate team. The team consisted of plenty of sophomores and juniors, but it could not boast a single senior. The debaters were inexperienced this year but show promise of being much stronger next year.

This year the members were working for their membership in the National Forensic League which is a national debate and speech honorary club. They entered into debates in the Puget Sound League, the Round Robin at Bothell, attended the festival at the University of Washington last fall and then attended a special tournament at Pacific Lutheran College in February. The team also put on practice debates for freshmen and junior high students to get them interested in the course.

Marnell Clement placed second in after-dinner speaking at the Seattle Pacific Tournament in an individual event. Janice Reeder and Helen Ziemer were the most outstanding debate team on the Puyallup team.

Mary McCallum directs the class as they check their National Forensic League membership.

PEP CLUB MEMBERS PROMOTE GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP

"Wear white blouses!" This was the cry of the officers of Pep Club as they re-organized the club this year. Members of Pep Club were to sit in marked off sections of the bleachers and to wear white blouses at basketball games.

This year a new idea was tried. A bus was rented to take the club members to the games. But because there weren't enough members interested in taking the bus, this was discontinued.

In order to have his picture in the annual or to receive a Pep Club pen, a member had to have a total of 60 points. These points were obtained by attending games, participating in skits, and making posters to arouse school spirit and promote good sportsmanship.

Germaine Baumgartner was elected president of Pep Club; other officers were Barbara Knutsen, vice-president; and Viola Bliner, secretary-treasurer.

MAKE-UP CLUB

Make-up club adapts students' faces to those seen on the stage in "Time Out for Ginger."

COMMITTEES SUPPORT STUDENTBODY ACTIVITIES

Four groups that played an important role in making the plays at Puyallup High School a success were the property committee, costume committee, make-up club, and publicity committee.

The who, what, when, and where of the plays were brought before the public's eye by the publicity committee's posters and signs that appeared in store windows. They also saw that stories appeared in the local papers.

The props for the plays which were just taken for granted by many students meant many weird scavanger hunts to members of the property committee.

The members of make-up club worked for hours before a play to make-up the performers that would appear on the stage. A special meeting was held at the first of the year to teach the new members the basic techniques of putting on make-up.

The costumes for the plays were made, rented, or borrowed by members of the costume committee.
Their work always started early to be sure that all costumes would be ready for the performances. Miss Carolyn Fix advised the costume committee.

CHOIR, SMALL GROUPS PARTICIPATE IN ASSEMBLIES

The 1956-57 A Cappella Choir under the direction of Louis Owens had a very successful season. The highlight of the year came at Jason Lee Junior High School in Tacoma when the choir received an excellent rating in the music contest held there in May.

The choir made appearances at the annual Thanksgiving Eve services the play skits-choir assembly, the Easter assembly, and the sunrise services this year.

Meeting for practice two days a week in room 311 was the Boys' Glee Club. These boys received one-half credit for singing and were excused from study hall for practices. They made appearances this year at the Christmas program, the play skits-choir assembly, and at the Spring Concert.

The melodious voices heard ringing forth from room 311 this last season were not the voices of angels but the sweet notes of the Madrigal group. The members of this group were chosen by Louis Owens, director, from students in the choir. This small group was perhaps the busiest group around school this year making appearances at PTA meetings, the Christmas program, and various assemblies throughout the year.

PUYALLUP GLEE CLUBS BLEND VOICES IN HARMONY

The Senior High Girls' Glee Club started their weekly practices in September this year and continued until May when they made their final appearance in the Spring Concert. Other appearances included performances at the Christmas program and the Easter assembly. In late March the Glee Club traveled to Jason Lee Junior High School in Tacoma to a music contest where they received an excellent rating.

Making their first appearnce at the Christmas program was the Ninth Grade Girls' Glee Club. This group of ninth grade girls met Tuesday and Friday mornings in room 311 for practices. This group was not chosen or selected by Louis Owens, director, but instead girls interested were invited to start coming to practices at the beginning of each quarter if they wished. The glee club received a superior rating at the music contest held in late March. Their final performance was the Spring Concert presented in May.

SENIOR BAND, ORCHESTRA PRESENT CONCERT;

Without the support of the Puyallup High School Band, the activities around PHS would have been rather dull. The band's appearances at all the football and basketball games added an extra spark to the PHS rooting section.

Members of the band have been working hard this year trying to earn money for new band uniforms.

Highlighting the band's public appearances this year were the Christmas assembly and concert and the Swing Concert. They also participated in the Daffodil Parade, journeyed to Highline to present an exchange assembly, and played in the Western Washington Band Contest in Enumclaw this spring.

SELL NUTS TO RAISE FUNDS FOR NEW UNIFORMS

To start off their year, the Puyallup High School Orchestra members sold nuts, along with the band, and helped earn $600 toward new uniforms.

Orchestra members then started rehearsing for their part in the Christmas concert. In February came their biggest event, the Swing Concert, in which the orchestra had half of the program. In March this group journeyed to Tacoma to participate in the Western Washington Orchestra Contest. The climax of the year came when they performed in the annual Spring Concert.

IN MANY SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

Instrumental groups around PHS were very active. Besides performing for Kiwanis, PTA, and other clubs, they also participated in the Western Washington Solo and Ensemble contest at Renton in March. In this contest the brass sextet, woodwind quintet, trumpet trio, and senior clarinet quartet each received a superior rating and the ninth grade clarinet quartet received an excellent rating. A number of members of the band also played solos at the contest.

ART CLUB PROJECTS ADD GAIETY TO SCHOOL

Using the talents of Puyallup High School's artistic students, the Art Club decorated the school during the holidays for the enjoyment of all students.

During the Christmas season the bulletin board was appropriately adorned with the Madonna in chalk as a center attraction, and on both sides stood choirs of angels. Later in the year the students exhibited their talents in drawing and painting at the library.

ART CLUB

Art club members decorate hall windows with ghosts and goblins as Halloween approaches.

"Take that film up to 317 and hurry!" These words were often uttered by Glen Crum, audio visual director of Pierce County. The running of films, film strips, records, and slides were all a part of the job done by the Projection Crew. A card catalog was also made which listed all of the films, film strips, records and slides available. This was made possible only through the help of the three girls—Bonnie Silvernail, Loretta Powloski, and Joyce Winters—who came in to help every day.

The club had an "auction" in May where creations of the students were auctioned or sold. While interested viewers examined the exhibits, art students sketched pictures of them to sell.

The proceeds of the auction went to the Art Scholarship Fund created by Art Club. Art Club was the first club in the history of PHS to give a scholarship to a high school student.

This year's officers were Gene Harris, president; Bob Badham, vice-president; and Mary Harbor, secretary.

SPORTS

A very notable change since the days of "Our Little Red School House" is in the field of sports. The once exciting game of marbles, so popular years ago, has been replaced by the fast-moving games of basketball and football. A small group of interested viewers would gather around and cheer on the marble champions; now there is a band and yell staff to lead the huge crowds as they cheer their teams on to the victory.

SPARKS ENDS 18 YEAR CAREER OF COACHING

The year 1957 proved to be sad for Puyallup football fans, not only because the grid squad won only three games, but because it marked the end of an eighteen year career at Puyallup for Coach Carl Sparks.

In tribute to Sparks, the state Coaches Committee selected him as head coach of the west all-stars who will meet the east all-stars at Spokane in the High School All-Star Game in August, 1957.

Mr. Sparks' last high school football team was selected as pre-season favorites to win the Puget Sound League title. This selection was based mainly on the team's size and on past Puyallup records. The experts forgot to consider one important point when they picked the Vikings—experience.

Sparks didn't have one returning letterman to his offensive platoon, and this factor showed up considerably during the season.

The Norsemen's first game was against the Olympia Bears. The experts dropped all of their former conclusions after the Viks had been run, passed, and trampled over 26-0.

The following week showed some improvement with the Viking forces outplaying but losing to the visiting Franklin Pierce Cardinals 7-6.

On September 28, the Vikings traveled to Kent-Meridian to meet the defending champion Royals. After battling three quarters to a 6-6 tie, the Vikings opened up and coasted in with and 18-6 victory. The team suffered a mental letdown the next Friday when they were tied 13-13 by the lowly Auburn Trojans.

Then came the day of reckoning—Friday, October 12, 1957. The gridders traveled to Thompson Field in Lakewood with glimmers of upsetting the yet undefeated and unscored upon Clover Park Warriors. Clover Park not only added the Vikings to their win streak, but they handed them the worse defeat that a Puyallup squad has suffered in history, 39-6. This is the point where the '57 Vikings established themselves as a team worthy of representing Puyallup High School.

VIKS WIN OVER SUMNER AT TURKEY DAY GAME

Most teams would completely fold up after a beating like the latter. But the Norse did just the opposite. On October 26 the second place Renton Indians came to town with visions of running the Sparksmen right out of the Viking Field. After three scoreless quarters Renton managed to sneak across a touchdown late in the game to win 7-0. At Enumclaw a week later, Puyallup fought to a 6-0 deficit at halftime before falling 25-6.

Returning to Viking Field on November 9, the Vikings clobbered the fourth place Highline pirates 19-7 to make their season a success. The Pirates had boasted a 300 yards per game rushing average, but the strong Puyallup defensive team held them to less than 100 yards.

The Viks climbed into fifth spot in the final standings with a close 7-0 win over Sumner on Thanksgiving Day. The win marked revenge for the team's loss to the Spartans last year.

Despite finishing in the second division, the team landed several players on the all-conference teams. Leading this list were Ken Samuelson, tackle and Bob Steiner, end; both of whom were named to the all-conference second team.

Earning honorable mention honors for Puyallup were the following boys::: ::Lorin Ginther and Larry Omerso, halfbacks; George Parmeter, end; Gary Buchanan and Dave McCallum, guards; and Captain Jon Bentley, center.

B SQUAD SHOWS PROMISE

By winning three of their final four games, the Viking B Squad finished out their 1956 season with a four win, four lost record. The team was again jointly coached by Carl Wasmund and Al Jacobs.

In their first encounter of the season, the sophomores fell before a fine Franklin Pierce eleven 14-0 at Parkland. The following Monday, Sept. 21, the B Squad outplayed but lost to their rival the Sumner Spartans 13-6 at Sumner. Coach Wasmund's charges lost their third straight away game Oct. 12

The Vik reserves got on the win track with a resounding 19-7 victory over the previously undefeated Clover Park reserves at Viking Field.

Apparently not impressed by the huge Lincoln Bowl, the Puyallup sophs outscored the host Abes for the Viking's second straight victory. Returning to their home grounds, the B Squad fought hard, but couldn't salvage a win as they were shutout by Stadium 7-0.

The Viking avenged an earlier defeat from Franklin Pierce on Nov. 5 when they shutout the Cards 14-0 at Viking Field. In their final game of the year, Nov. 12, the B Squad ran past the Sumner squad 18-0 to close out their season with success.

BABY VIKS SUCCESSFUL

Although winning only one out of five games, Puyallup's freshman football team showed promise for the future as they became the first Viking grid team in the past fifteen years to play completely out of the "T" formation.

The Baby Viks opened their 1956 season on Sept. 27 when they were edged 14-13 by a scrappy band of Sumner Spartans. Coach John Smethers' frosh lost another squeaker on Oct. 11, as they dropped a close 12-7 decision to the Enumclaw Hornets.

Finally on Oct. 18 the freshman played their best game of the season and won over Sumner 7-0 at Viking Field. The team completely disregarded the single wing formation for which Puyallup had become famous and switched to a highly successful split-T offense.

The final two games were sad affairs for the Baby Vikings. On Oct. 25 the Puyallup frosh were clobbered 32-0 at Clover Park, and on Nov. 1 the freshman lost 13-0 to Franklin Pierce to close out their season.

Playing throughout the season for the ninth graders were the following boys: two year letterman Jim Clifton, Dick Fox, Larry Cortise, Bob Leonard, and Jim Giese.

One year lettermen were Joe Jansen, Larry Wasmund, Lyle Nicolet, Gene Sulkosky, Glen Woods, Rusty Andrews, Steve Parish, Jerry Busick, Julius Brecht, Dale Zoffel, and Tom Stinson.

Other letter winners were Jim Fox, Tom Gale, Larry Baginski, Harold Peterson, Doug Leer, Jim Norris, Don Otto, Harold Kurle, Butch Porter, Marty Whitman, Doug Sparks, Carl Svoboda, Bob Scheyer, and Fran Engh.

VALIANT VIKINGS WIN HARRY HANSEN TROPHY

The 1957 edition of Puyallup basketball, coached for the seventh consecutive year by Dean Nicholson, fell before the same fate as the '57 football squad—the second division—due to lack of experience.

Coach Nicholson had only two lettermen and one starter returning from his 1956 championship squad. The remainder of his team was made up of last year's B squad, sophomore team, and freshman team.

Over the entire season the Vikings established a six won, fourteen lost record. In Puget Sound League action the team won five and lost eleven. To Puyallup fans and students the season was highly successful, for not only did Puyallup capture the Harry Hansen Sportsmanship Trophy; but they also did their share of "giant killing."

Puyallup started the season off very poorly—losing their first four league contests, after winning just one of four practice tilts. The Norse's first league win was an unspectacular 39-28 victory over the lowly Sumner Spartans. Then they took another nose dive—losing five more in a row before meeting and defeating the Spartans again, this time more convincingly, 59-40.

Instead of falling apart as they did after their previous meeting with Sumner, the Viks surprised everybody by upsetting the second place Renton Indians 21-18 in the "deepfreeze bowl."

Just when it seemed as the Viks might be getting into high gear, Auburn came along and knocked them back into reverse by a score of 62-34.

DOBLER, GINTHER MAKE ALL-CONFERENCE TEAM

After being edged by Clover Park 42-39, the Vikings scored convincing upsets over first division Franklin Pierce and Enumclaw to round off the season in good form.

The Vikings improved noticeably during the course of the year; this is illustrated by the fact that they won only one of their first eight games, but in the second half of league play they won four of eight for an even split.

Several of this year's team will be returning to Nicholson next year, so in 1957-58 the Vikings undoubtedly will not suffer from lack of experience.

Puyallup placed only two players on the all-conference teams this year—guard Harold Dobler was voted to the league's second all-star team, and forward Lorin Ginther won an honorable mention.

At the season's conclusion the team members selected Lorin Ginther as their honorary captain, and Eugene Napolean was chosen as the team's inspirational award winner.

B SQUAD WINS NINE GAMES

Center: Roger Dixon makes a "tip-in" which adds to the winning score for the Viks.

Although they won only ten out of nineteen, the 1956-57 Puyallup B squad actually enjoyed a much finer season than their record indicates.

Guided throughout the year by coaches Dean Nicholson and Jim Turman, the Viking reserves won their first six games in a row before they were stopped by Lincoln and Stadium of Tacoma. Among their victims were Olympia, Fife, Enumclaw, Franklin Pierce, Auburn, and Clover Park.

The Viks came back with an easy win over Sumner, but once again ran into a losing streak as they fell to Renton 45-43, Kent-Meridian 47-46, and Highline 44-28.

The B squad won only three out of their final seven games, but they did have one distinction—they managed to avenge every league defeat that they suffered earlier in the year.

Of the nine losses handed the Viks during the season, less than five of these were by three point or less margins.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL TEAM HAS WINNING SEASON

Winning the honor of co-champions of the league and winning all their games but one, the Baby Viks had a very successful season.

Coached by John Smethers and led by Captain Jim Clifton, the Baby Vikings trounced over such opponents as Sumner twice, Federal Way twice, Puget Sound once, Enumclaw once and at the Tacoma Jamboree, Gray Junior High School. The Baby Viks won over the Franklin Pierce Cardinals, 55-37, to tie with the Cards for top honors in the Puget Sound League.

The babes also tied the record of the most points scored in a junior high game. The Vikings ended the season almost undefeated. The only defeat was to the Cardinals at their first meeting. Since there was no play off, the title to each team was as co-champions.

Those who saw action for the year were Jim Clifton, Jim Norris, Harold Kurle, Donald Mannie, Bob Leonard, Roger Stroud, Dan Hagestad, Delmare Weston, Tom Stinson, Dick Fox, Darvid Seastrom, Bob Scheyer, and Jerry Van Pevenage.

MATMEN WIN TWO MATCHES

After winning only two of eleven matches throughout the regular season, Puyallup's inexperienced wrestling team preceded to capture second place in the district tourney and send four boys to the state tournament at Washington State College.

The grapplers, coached by Ray Barnes, lost two matches to Stadium and Olympia and one each to Fife, Kelso, Lincoln, Lake Washington, and Bethel. The team's only victories came in wins over Bethel and Fife.

In the district meet held at Lincoln, Wally Hartshorn, 154, and Dick Ferguson, 136, won the championships in their respective weight classes. Captain Ed Park, 115, also qualified for the state tourney by placing second. Frank Park, 123, placed third but was able to make the trip to Pullman when the champion in his division became ill. The latter, incidently, drew two byes, one on another injured opponent, to place fourth in the state meet. Ferguson finished fifth; Hartshorn, sixth; and Ed Park eighth in the mat sport's "Tournament of Champions."

Sophomore Dick Long, 106, was elected captain of next year's team; and Ed Park was chosen the team's inspiration.

YELL STAFF ADDS SPIRIT

Four pretty yell leaders full of vim, vigor, and vitality, cheered the Vikings through victory and defeat this year. Yell Queen Viola Bliner and Duchesses Judy Letourneau, Dorothy Dall, and Caroline Deck organized lively pep assemblies and promoted school spirit.

The school songs were led by the lively pepsters Kathy Palmer, Germaine Baumgartner, Karren Hanson, and Sandy Bacon. The four girls came up with an original outfit this year that added color to the games. The outfit included purple bermuda skirts and socks, with purple weskits and white blouses to match.

The three peppy freshmen yell leaders were always on the job this year to promote interest and pep up freshmen games. The three girls were Queen Judy Hotz and Duchesses Celia Jones and Anita Harris.

Every Tuesday and Thursday morning at 7:30 found the drill team "stepping high" through their many routines.

The drill team this year performed at two football games, two basketball games, in the Santa Claus Parade, the Daffodil Parade, and at Sumner during the halftime of the Puyallup-Sumner basketball game.

The drill team was led by Mickey Miller through the year while Mrs. Alice Hickey advised and coached the girls. The manager was Carol Christianson.

GAA MEMBERS BICYCLE TO POINT DEFIANCE PARK

Highlighting the social activities for the Girls' Athletic Association Letter Club this year was a progressive dinner, a slumber party, and an annual bike ride to Point Defiance Park in the spring.

Along with the major sports of basketball, volleyball, table tennis, badminton, and baseball there were the minor sports consisting of hikes, bike rides, bowling, skating, skiing, and others that girls could take part in.

Sophomore, junior, and senior girls had an opportunity for physical education activities in the GAALC. The main purpose of this club was to encourage interest and enjoyment in athletic activities, to carry out the highest ideals of true sportsmanship, and to promote a feeling of good fellowship among the girls of the high school.

Points were earned for participation in the various sports. Every girl received 100 points for each major sport, and less for the minor activities she participated in. When a girl had 550 points she won a letter. All girls who earned a letter became members of the letter club.

The highest award a girl could earn was the Gold Victory medal requiring 2400 points and the second highest award was the Silver Victory medal requiring 2100 points.

Officers of the letter club this year were Dena Biehn, president; Sandra Wilson, vice-president; Sharlyne McPherson, secretary-treasurer; Barbara Abbott, historian; and Linda Robert, sports manager, Miss Patty Clark was adviser of the club.

TENNIS TEAM LOOKS FORWARD TO SUCCESSFUL SEASON

Under the direction of Coach Don Henry, the Viking tennis team was looking forward to a highly successful season at the time the annual went to press, April 1.

In their only match, up to that time, the racketmen had whitewashed Sumner 7-0 of Sumner.

The squad had matches scheduled with Franklin Pierce, Kent-Meridan, Enumclaw, Auburn, Highline, Renton, and Clover Park in the Puget Sound League and also a non-league affair with Eatonville.

Members of the team included the following: Liz Ward, girl's singles; Harold Dobler, boy's singles; Mike Gross and Jon Northrop, boy's doubles; Janice Reeder and Barbara Thurston, girl's doubles; and Ron Manley and Gretchen Scheyer, mixed doubles.

Other members turning out were Ron Callahan, Kent Decker, Larry McGaughy, Caryn Chervenka, Edith Mitchell, and Judy Ferris.

LINKSMEN PLAN FOR A SUCCESSFUL GOLF SEASON

The Puyallup divot-diggers had won their only league match at the time the Annual went to press. In practice matches the Viks won only one of three.

The first match that the linksmen played was with Franklin Pierce on their home course which the Cardinals won 3-1. The second match was a return practice match with Franklin Pierce on the Vikings' home course which the Vikings won 13-2. The final practice match was with Lincoln on the Vikings' home course which Lincoln won 11-1. In this match a hole-in-one was made by Irv Marlow of Lincoln on the second hole with a six-iron.

The Norse's league wins came over Enumclaw 15-0 and Auburn 9½-5½ at the Enumclaw Country Club.

Seven students turned out for the golf team, which was coached by Mike Mowrer, agriculture instructor. Those turning out were Gary Wegener, Dick Ferguson, John Williams, Dave Wentworth, Bill Ingram, Dick Crowe, and Dick Disney.

The Vikings were plagued with sickness and ineligibility at the first of the year but appeared to be overcoming this handicap. League matches were scheduled with Enumclaw, Franklin Pierce, Clover Park, Kent-Meridian, Auburn, Sumner, Renton, and Highline.

OMERSO, BALL, JASCUR SPARK '57 TRACK SQUAD

At press time, May 1st, the Puyallup thinclads were still looking for their first victory. Ster Harshman had a surplus of underclassmen on the squad, and he expects the track squad to return to a high peak in the next year or two. As for the 1957 team, they had failed to win in their first seven meets.

The season opened on March 22 when the Viks entertained their neighbors from the West Central League, Federal Way and Fife. The Eagles wound up with 71 points to easily capture honors, and Puyallup and Fife followed with 33½ each. The only winners for the Vikings were Buster Ball in the pole vault and Bob Johnson in the high jump.

The Vikings fell to the Lincoln Abes 60-45 on March 29 at Viking Field. Larry Omerso, 880; Art England, broadjump; Len Jascur, discus; and Buster Ball, pole vault, were the first place winners for Puyallup.

On April 5, the Vikings captured second place over Enumclaw, while Renton was winning handily. Larry Omerso, 880; Phillip Morganti, 440; and Buster Ball, pole vault; were the Vik winners.

Clover Park romped over Puyallup in a duel meet at Viking Field April 12. Larry Omerso again won the 880 run for the Norse, and sophomore Ray Johnson finally broke his second place "jinx" with a victory in the shot put.

Auburn's Trojans journeyed to Viking Field, April 18, and defeated the squad 68-50. Omerso, 880; Morganti, 440; England, broadjump; Jascur, discus; and Ball, pole valut; won for Puyallup

On April 23 Clover Park easily downed Sumner and Puyallup at Lakewood ,75-48-25 respectively. Omerso and Ray Johnson were the only winners for the Vikings in the 880 and shot put respectively.

The big meet of the year by far was the Enumclaw Invitational held April 30. Bothel of the King County League was first, followed by Federal Way, West Central, Enumclaw, Issaquah, King County, Sumner, and Puyallup. Puyallup didn't have any first place finishers, but Larry Omerso gained second in the 880; Bruce Rowell, third in the high hurdles; and Terry Ruyle and Len Jascur, each fourth in the pole vault and the discus respectively.

Buster Ball goes over and into the pole vault pit.

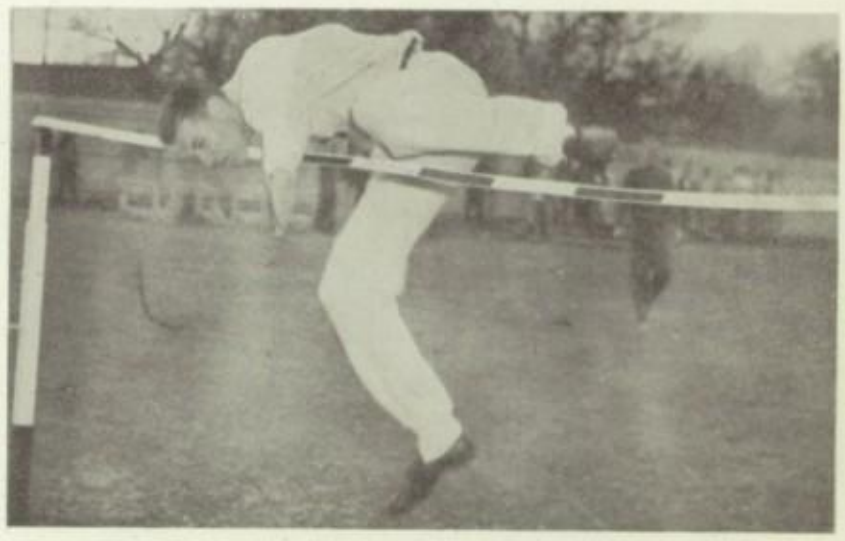
Larry Omerso finishes and comes in first place in the 880.

Jon Bentley gives the shot-put a gigantic heave.

Jerry Wheeler, Jim Mahaffie, Frank Berry, and John Brooks take a quick warm-up run.

Bob Studebaker leaps the high hurdles.

Len Jascur jumps the high jump.



Ed Parks clears the high jump.

Larry Omerso runs the 880.

Bruce Rowell flys over the high hurdles.

Chuck Larson runs the mile.

FRESHMAN TRACK SQUAD PLACE SECOND IN MEETS

With only three track meets being run, at press time, the Puyallup Junior High Track Team had placed second in all three meets.

The Baby Vikings opened their season this year, April 12, against the mighty Clover Park Warriors, the Viks were unable to cope with the speed of the parkers and were defeated 14½ to 60.

Barely edging out the Auburn Trojans the Baby Norsemen placed second in their second meet, April 18, with Puget Sound capturing 35 points, Puyallup receiving 28 points and Auburn with 27 points.

Taking first place in the shuttle relay, their only first place in the meet, the Puyallup cindermen were again able to capture a second place birth at their April 23 track meet with Clover Park and Sumner.

Clover Park took first with 24 points, Puyallup second with 23 points and Sumner with 11 points.

The Viks were sparked by team members Rex Silvernail, Harold Kurle, Darvid Seastrom, Gene Sulkosky, Fred Lambert, Bob Leonard, Dale Zoffel, Jerry Busick, Joe Jansen, Darold Mannie, and Ray Isaksen.

DIAMOND MEN BUILD EXPERIENCE FOR 1958

Lack of experience and not enough pitchers were the main setbacks of Coach Dean Nicholson's baseball team this year.

The squad, improving with each game, had won two straight contests, over Enumclaw and Sumner, to give them a record of two wins and seven losses.

Due to the fireball pitching of Bob Mitchell and the all around playing of Gary Buchanan, the Viking diamond men were able to give their opponents a few close shaves.

Other ball handlers for the Viks were Leroy Gustafson and Jerry Johannes. Bob Steiner and Reed Robertson, starters in left field and center field respectively, added much to the success of the Vikings this season. Also Earl Root, starting first baseman, Larry Pletcher on third base, and Tom Marshall deserve recognition for their fine efforts in every game.

Hopes will be higher for the Vikings next year when all but two of this year's members will be returning.

RED SCHOOLHOUSE DOORS CLOSE

The little red schoolhouse—what pictures that phrase has conjured up for us during our pleasant, memory-filled journey through the 1957 year. We have had glimpses into the past; we have seen Puyallup High School in the stages of its growth from a "Little Red School House" to the familiar, loved halls which have echoed our happy laughter throughout the years. Now, as we go forward one more step in the progress we have noted on the pages of this book, let us never forget the old, time-tested friendships and memories that our years at PHS have afforded us.

Also, we cannot forget those who have been so cooperative in assisting with the many details involved in the publishing of this book—Harold Snodgrass, for his work as adviser; the Puyallup Valley Tribune, for printing and binding the Viking; Foshaug, Hartman-Ames, William Lee, and Krug studios, for printing photographs; the S. K. Smith Company, for providing covers; and the administration, for being patient and helpful.

Many final, sorrowful goodbyes are in store for the seniors as they bid friends, teachers, and "the halls of ivy" a fond farewell and go forward in their search for new horizons of wisdom and happiness in the ever progressing, fast-moving modern world of today. As their desires are fulfilled we will watch PHS as it presses onward to a future which is no doubt radically different from the days of "The Little Red School House."

Dear Sonja,
Lots of luck in the navy; maybe we'll be in there. We've had out of school.

Hi Kid
Well this yr.
comes to a close and some real swell
kids leave our Jail house with it (you sure lucky) Just think of all the fun you had,
& a. and all those fun yrs. you the sports games, recreations, but boy you had in my estimation more than some sure worked to and that's clear. Here to Dad's well better close. Here to Kid's well better close. A friend
A wonderful Phy Ed. Major
